

What is the COLORADO LANGUAGE ACCESS COALITION?

The Colorado Language Access Coalition (CLAC) is a group of 100+ people who care deeply about language access. The group includes community members and individuals who work for government or nonprofits.

We support public policies that help every Coloradan communicate and receive understandable information in the language they prefer.

Since it started in August 2023, CLAC has...

- championed House Bill 24-1368 (Language Access Advisory Board), helping to improve language access in Colorado's law-making process
- supported House Bill 24-1009 (Bilingual Child Care Licensing Resources), allowing Spanish-speaking child care providers get licenses and trainings in their preferred language
- influenced other policies related to paid family leave, protections for mobile home park residents, emergency alerts, and language access at state agencies

Join us!

All are welcome in CLAC! Our meetings happen via Zoom on the 4th Monday of each month from 2pm-3:30pm. Members are welcome to participate as much as they want. To join the group, contact Kate Greuel, kgreuel@springinstitute.org.

CLAC is led by Spring Institute for Intercultural Learning and a coalition Steering Committee. Questions? Contact Kate Greuel: kgreuel@springinstitute.org
